The city's origins lie in a surge in nineteenth century urbanisation which ringed the Pacific with a network of bustling commercial cities: Melbourne, Sydney, Brisbane, Auckland, San Francisco, Seattle and Vancouver. They grew as gateways to their expansive hinterlands, facilitating European settlement and the harnessing of their developing regional economies to world money and produce markets.

They were cities of the nineteenth century, built from scratch, their spatial form shaped by the latest technological innovations and their social economic structures mirroring the logic of modern capitalist market place. Melbourne - fittingly dubbed "Marvellous Melbourne" by George Sala in 1888, encapsulates this remarkable city's building progress. Melbourne was for most of the nineteenth century the most remarkable of these Pacific Rim cities, and the largest in both population and in physical extent.

The growth of this city is often taken for granted, but Melbourne was not predetermined or inevitable. It was established by speculators technically in breach of the law. The hinterland was not given out to capitalists but licensed, leased and purchased by investors and speculators.

This entrepreneurial quality was reinforced by the gold discoveries which attracted settlers who were young, enterprising and independent. These were the people who opposed state aid to religion, fought for the eight hour day, pressed for land to be opened up to the small settler and most dramatically espoused the protection of local industry ~ inverting the orthodoxies of Great Britain.

A strong imprint remains of the industries established between 1860 and 1890, especially in areas like clothing and footwear establishing Marvellous Melbourne as the shopping capital of Australia even today.

THE COSTUME DESIGNER: EDITH HEAD AND HOLLYWOOD

A large slice of Hollywood history will arrive in Bendigo in September with an exhibition honouring the life and work of multiple Academy Award-winning costume designer

Edith Head.

Edith Head is considered the most significant costume designer in the history of cinema. In her 50 year career, first at Paramount Pictures and later at Universal Studios, the American-born designer worked closely with most of Hollywood's most important stars on close to a thousand films.

The Costume Designer brings together more than seventy of these costumes, from the 1930s to the 1960s, gleaned the archives of Paramount, the Collection of Motion Picture Costume Design and other private collections.

Curated by Bendigo Art Gallery Curatorial Manager Tansy Curtin, The Costume Designer features garments worn by Shirley Temple, Gloria Swanson, Veronica Lake, Olivia De Havilland, Jane Russell, Audrey Hepburn, Fred Astaire and Yul Brynner, to name a few. Films highlighted in the exhibition include The Ten Commandments, Samson and Delilah, The Emperors Waltz, Sunset Boulevard, Vertigo, The Heiress and many more.

Highlights include:

- The three piece evening gown worn by Barbara Stanwyck in The 1941 film The Lady Eve.
- A day dress, coat and shoes worn by Shelley Winters in the 1951 film A Place in the Sun.
- A two-piece performance suit worn by Bob Hope in the 1953 film Here Come the Girls.
- Shirley Temple's bright red costume worn in the 1934 film Little Miss Marker.
- A sportscoat worn by Cary Grant in the 1955 film To Catch a Thief.

Edith Head received eight Academy Awards during her career, the largest number ever won by a woman. One of her many skills as a designer was to recognise apparent 'flaws' in the bodies she dressed, using drape, cut and pattern to disguise imperfections and to highlight the wearer's 'assets'.

Cast a line into the productive fishing grounds around the Mornington Peninsula, either independently or with a fishing charter. Try your luck, day or night, on the dozens of piers dotting the shores of Port Phillip, Hobsons, Corio and Westernport bays. For surf fishing, cast a line at Rye Back Beach, Gunnamatta and Point Leo. Fish of the day. Port Phillip and Westernport bays are best for whiting, gummy and school shark, squid, salmon, garfish, rock cod, flathead and elephant fish. Nab a snapper year round, but the fishing really 'hots up' over the warmer months, when snapper up to 10 kilograms are running.

AUSTRALIAN ARGYLE PINK DIAMONDS

Argyle pink diamonds are the rarest and most beautiful gems mined by Argyle Diamonds in the East Kimberley region of Western Australia. At less than one percent of all production, Pink Diamonds are still one of the world's best-kept secrets and desirable gems in the world. The Australian Pink Diamonds are not just known for their spectacular colour, but their investment potential as well.

On average, the Argyle pink diamonds have increased by 20% every year over the past last 10 years. This is due to a number of reasons, such as its rarity, the demand for pinks is increasing, while the supply is reducing, as the Argyle mine moves towards the end of its lifespan, the number of pink diamonds found is decreasing.

Argyle Pink diamonds range from Red as being the rarest and most expensive to Purplish Pink (darkest PP1 to lightest 9PP), Pink (darkest P1 to lightest 9P) and Pink Rose (darkest 1PR to lightest 9PR). The purplish stone tend to give the diamond a stronger and more intense look while the pink rose tend to have a champagne shade to the diamonds.

AUSTRALIAN OPALS

Around 90% of the world's precious opal comes from Australia, where unique geological conditions allowed the formation of this rare gemstone.

Most light opal is found in South Australia, black opal in New South Wales - especially Lightning Ridge, and boulder opal in Queensland. In one precious opal you may see all the colours of the rainbow. As early as the 1st century A.D. the Roman Pliny wrote: No other gemstone can display all the colours of the spectrum in such an infinite variety of shades, patterns and brilliance. No two are identical; for this reason the proud owner can delight in the fact that their gem is unique. The first discovery of common opals in Australia was made in 1849.

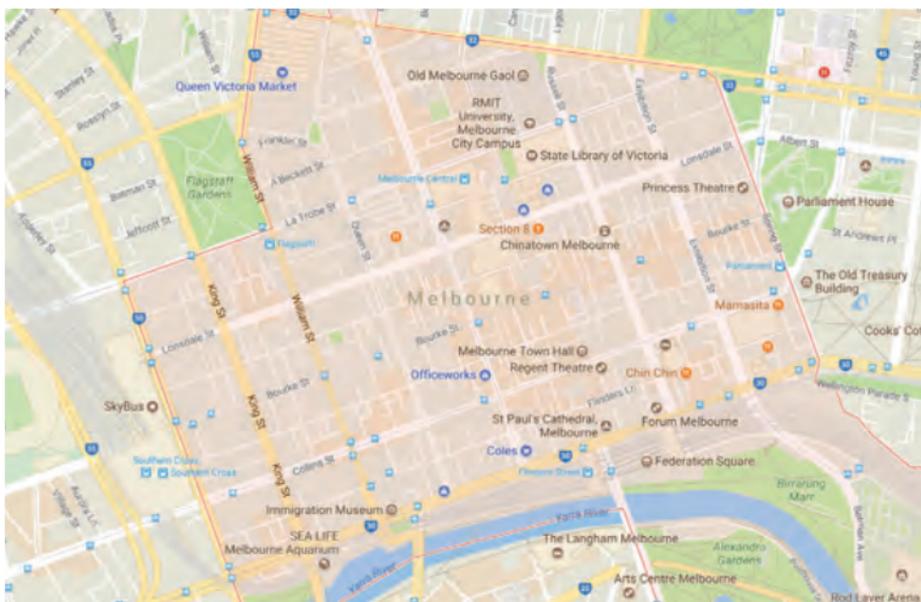

The early Greeks believed the opal bestowed powers of foresight and prophecy upon its owner, while in Arabian folklore, it is said that the stone fell from heaven in flashes of lightning. Ancient Romans provided the first real market for opal. The important opal mining areas in Australian opal production over the last century have been White Cliffs, The Queensland Fields, Lightning Ridge, Grawin & Glengarry, Coober Pedy, Andamooka, Mintabie and Lambina.

Melbourne has long been recognised as Australia's shopping and fashion capital. If it's fashion you're seeking then Melbourne has it covered. The city's funky laneways and tree-lined streets are a haven for small boutiques specialising in Australian designers, jewellery, accessories and international fashion.

For a wide range of designers and retailers under the one roof you can't go past retail centres such as GPO Melbourne, Melbourne Central, QV, Collinstwo3four, Australia on Collins and Collins Place. Got a hobby or special interest? Whatever your 'thing' you'll find it right in the heart of the city. The network of lanes and arcades are host to some of Melbourne's most intriguing shops, which sell everything from coins to spells and antique books to model trains. The city is also a great place for buying fresh food. Queen Victoria Market is the largest open air market in the southern hemisphere and considered a mecca for foodies.

Howey Place, formerly known as “Cole’s Walk” is a shopping arcade in Melbourne, Victoria. It is a short, narrow covered laneway, running south from Little Collins Street between Swanston Street and Elizabeth Street in the central business district of Melbourne.

Located in the heart of the shopping precinct, Howey Place is currently flanked with small designer fashion shops. It joins with the Sportsgirl Centre, a shopping mall at 234 Collins Street which runs through to Collins Street, as well forming an “L” shape toward the back of the Capitol Arcade which connects it with Swanston Street.

HISTORY

Before 1896, Howey Place was just a drab lane. In 1896 the lane was covered with a glass canopy and created glass showcases along the street to attract tenants.

Howey House, a tall art-deco building and part of the Collins Street in the 1930s once connected the lane to Collins Street via an open laneway, however Howey House was demolished in the 1980s for the construction of the Sportsgirl Centre, a modern shopping mall.

Flinders Street Station is one of Melbourne's favourite meeting places, hence the catchphrase 'meet me under the clocks'.

Flinders Street Station is Australia's oldest train station, and with its distinctive yellow facade and green copper dome it's a city icon. Takeaway stands line the concourse, and the upper floors were purpose-built to house a library, gym and a lecture hall, later used as a ballroom.

Flinders Street is the busiest suburban railway station in the southern hemisphere, with over 1500 trains and 110,000 commuters passing through each day.

Listed on the Victorian Heritage Register, its 708-metre main platform is the fourth longest railway platform in the world.

Free wi-fi is accessible on the station concourse and from every platform (select Metro Wi-Fi).

VICTORIAN WINE REGIONS

North-East Victoria

The North East Victoria Wine Zone has five wine regions, Alpine Valleys, Beechworth, Glenrowan, King Valley and Rutherglen. No matter what your favourite wine may be, the North East will have something for you.

Rutherglen

The name of this wine region is etched into the history of Australian winemaking. The fortified wine styles of Port and especially Liqueur Muscat and Tokay are undoubtedly of world class. After about 140 years as a wine region Rutherglen was developing a fairly tired, passé image in the late nineties, but since then it has been revitalised.

Beechworth

Is a small historic town surrounded by a small wine region. There are only a few wineries but they make up for their limited production by making wines of great finesse.

Yarra Valley

CHAPEL ST, SOUTH YARRA

Chapel Street is a shopping, dining and entertainment precinct in.

It has myriad shops ranging from exclusive upmarket fashion designers at the South Yarra end to old fashion pawnbrokers towards Windsor. Virtually from its beginning Chapel Street, between Toorak Road and Dandenong Road was a trading and shopping street with flour milling, butchers, bakers, drapers, boot makers, general stores, carpenters, bricklayers, farrier and blacksmiths, chemists and an undertaker. At the start of the 20th century large multi-level emporiums (department stores) began to spring up in the Prahran section of the street. At this point, Chapel Street rivalled the CBD as Melbourne's shopping destination. Emporium development continued right through to the 1930s.

In the 1970s, Prun Central opened as a major shopping mall. In the 1980s, the Jam Factory and Como Centre at the South Yarra end were the biggest developments to effect the character of the street. Gentrification ensured that this end became home to boutique fashion stores.

ST KILDA

Just 6km from the city centre, St Kilda is Melbourne's seaside playground and is much-loved by residents and visitors. St Kilda is renowned for its expansive view of Port Phillip, safe sandy beach, palm-lined boardwalk, huge range of beach activities, big skies, gorgeous sunsets, parks and gardens, great restaurants, bars and cafés, fabulous old buildings, and its colourful past and present. St Kilda is home to many of Melbourne's famous visitor attractions including Luna Park, the Esplanade Hotel, Acland Street and Fitzroy Street. It is home to St Kilda beach, Melbourne's most famous beach, several renowned theatres and several of Melbourne's big events and festivals. The main street in St Kilda is Fitzroy Street. It's lined with outdoor pubs, cafes and restaurants serving a wide variety of cuisines showcasing Melbourne's multicultural heritage. The café society of Acland Street first bloomed with the influx of cosmopolitan European migrants in the 1950s. That heritage can still be seen in the European-style cake shops, cafes and designer shops that line the street.

HISTORY

The Boon Wurrung people of the Kulin Nation were the traditional owners of the land where St Kilda now sits and called the area Euroe Yroke. There is evidence of their ancient lifestyle throughout St Kilda. Visit where early tribal gatherings were held at the 'Corroboree Tree' a very old red gum tree at St Kilda Junction.

St Kilda was named by Superintendent La Trobe after a watching a boat named 'Lady of St Kilda' anchored off the beach in 1841. During the 1900s, St Kilda became a favoured suburb of Melbourne's elite, and many palatial mansions were constructed along its hills and waterfront. The foreshore became Melbourne's amusement zone with the opening of Luna Park in 1912, at the time the newest and greatest amusement park in the world. Luna Park still operates today where you can enjoy rollercoaster rides and arcade games.

Following WWII, St Kilda became Melbourne's 'red light' district. During the 1960s, it became known for its bohemian style and attracted young artists and musicians taking advantage of cheap housing. The suburb still retains its alternative style today.

ST KILDA ESPLANADE MARKET

Since 1970, The Esplanade Market has been a St Kilda Sunday delight.

melbourne music venues

Experience Melbourne's music scene at its vibrant and exhilarating best, up close and personal. Jazz fiends and punks, metal heads and dread heads, dub, hardcore, slowcore and grindcore, they all have their place in Australia's music capital.

HOT IN THE CITY

If you don't mind a late night and you want to be in the thick of the action, the city is the place to be. Disappear into one of Melbourne's original venues hidden down dark laneways and up stairwells. Thursday through to Sunday is the best time to catch up-and-coming bands in sweaty clubs like a, Cherry or Pony. With live shows running as late as 2am and drinks served till 6 or 7 in the morning, you'll be having breakfast on your way home before you know it.

NORTHSIDE CITY LIMITS

Visit Fitzroy and Collingwood - the spiritual home of the north's arts and music scene. Wander Brunswick and Johnston streets on a weeknight and stumble across latin rhythms, jazz and big band along with rock, indie and hardcore. Join the revellers on the weekend and spend a night at Melbourne's home of rock and roll, The Tote. Catch indie rock and solo acts at

The Old Bar, rockabilly, psychedelic and rock at Yah Yah's, or take a walk up Brunswick Street to catch young hipster bands and indie pioneers at the Workers Club.

NEW BRUNSWICK AND NORTHCOTE

If you're staying out Brunswick way, head down to the Cornish Arms on Sydney Road for roots, folk and country or try the Empress of India in North Fitzroy - a Melbourne institution and a popular spot of low-key indie bands and solo artists. If you're up on High Street in Northcote catch a quiet set in the comfy bandroom of the Wesley Anne or walk over to the Northcote Social Club - one of the city's best concert clubs and the host of a secret show by The Pixies back in 2007.

SOUTHSIDE OF THE WORLD

Jump on the Sandringham train line or the 96 tram and head south to St Kilda, Windsor and Prahran. Explore the waterfront and Luna Park then catch hairy-chested rock bands, solo acts, comedy and DJs at the Esplanade Hotel.
